MEETING DESCRIPTION

We invite you to attend a state-of-the-art educational conference on the advancements of stereotactic radiotherapy (SRS/SBRT) and advancing therapies for the treatment of central nervous system and extracranial body applications. This two-day conference co-hosted by the Centro Diagnostico Italiano and the Radio-surgery Society®, will be held in Milan - the beautiful, metropolis city of northern Italy, a global capital of fashion, food and design.

The objective of this conference is to bring together leading experts in neuro-surgery, radiation oncology, surgery, medical oncology, radiobiology, medical physics and radiology to promote collaboration, education, professional development and to advance the field of SRS/SBRT and new emerging therapies.

The educational program will include teaching lectures, symposia and proffered papers on the most up-to-date techniques and strategies of SRS/SBRT for the treatment of intracranial and extracranial applications, SRS for functional diseases, strategies for combining immunotherapy and hypofractionated radiotherapy, and the use of radiographic imaging to maximize the effectiveness of ablative therapies.

Who Should Attend:

This conference is intended for neurosurgeons, radiation oncologists, surgeons, medical oncologists, medical physicists, dosimetrists and healthcare professionals who are interested in the fields of stereotactic radiosurgery, stereotactic body radiotherapy and advancing therapies for the treatment of cancer.
